Editorial

In the last issue, we were editorially responsible for a ghastly and shame-making boob. In Marsha Forest's article Fifteen Women which was being printed in two parts with its sequel in this issue was in some quite inexplicable way - mixed up with another article.

So that you may finally piece together the real Marsha Forest, we are repeating the last 6 lines of the correct text (September issue, page 13 and are following this with the final part of her work.

We are really sorry for all this and only hope that it hasn't spoilt your enjoyment of Marsha Forest's moving story.
