WHAT DO I WANT

I know what I want
You know what you want
What I want is very simple but it is complicated by what you want
If you don't get what you want I am not likely to get what I want Not that there is any guarantee that I shall get what I want even if you get what you want

You are depriving me of what I want
I keep searching all my life for what I want
I never get what I want
If there is someone who will give me what I want I

If there is someone who will give me what I want I don't want it I am not interested in you very much if you are willing to give me what I want But I am very interested if you won't give me what I want or only give me a little, depriving me of what I want

I get involved with you because you only give me a little of what I want

Do I want what I want?

Or do I want to complain that I am not getting what I want? I deprive myself of what I want by going where I am not likely to get much of it.

I deprive myself because I am not sure I want what I want?

Poor me, poor deprived me

Poor naive me

if someone offers me what I want I cry 'No! It's too simple to be any good to me'

What do I want?

Hans Lobstein