

Rogers considers the Camp David meetings as a breakthrough in international negotiations, mainly because of the personal and informal style of the talks.

We feel powerless.

Is it perhaps outside the University where the dialogue has to be continued?

So where do we go from here?

There is a growing distance between people, more things are handled on an impersonal level.

I have found a place for myself. So, when you find a note on my door saying that I am in Woensdrecht you will know what it's all about.

the celebrant

his father chose
the season with care.

between the graces of thanksgiving turkey and resonant shouts of new year's cheer his father would rehearse his lines of self-pity, visiting tombs of ash and wild rose

he would feast on thorns and gruel, piecing together the ghost shreds of the past with the forgotten until his need relived his dream. to forget and to remember were one and the same. opening his presents in the shadows of joy, of love

unseen, his father chose
the season with care.
