

Writing in the Sand

Our imprint on the body of time
is no more than stick writing in the sand
erased by an incoming tide.

Particles rush in to fill the vacuum.

Witnessed by those who are there to see it
the imprint lives on, freeze framed,
as long as memories hold.

Those before or after see only pristine beach
inviting their own attempt at immortality.

KEIR FRANCIS