

POEM

For one who wants to write

Gabriel Millar

Stroud, UK

What will you write about?
Tell us what makes you cry:
kindness, heroism, beauty, death.....
The soldier who ran out
to defuse the grenade,
who saved his comrades
but lost his life.

What makes you cry?
The love that didn't last forever,
the robin singing up the sun,
the death of your new baby daughter.

Love and sorrow are brothers –
we grieve because we love.
Write about the sorrow you know
and you will speak for the world.
