Musical chairs

Julian Nangle

Vibration is the instrument that processes generation of matter
Matter is the instrument that processes generation of a violin
A violin is an instrument that processes generation of music
Music is an instrument that processes generation of feeling
Feeling is the instrument that processes generation of love/hate
Love/hate are the instruments that process generation of birth/death
Birth/death are the instruments that process consciousness
Consciousness is the instrument that processes generation of thought
Thought is the instrument that processes generation of awareness
Awareness is the instrument that awakens us to the existence of vibration
