EARNING A LIVING

The November issue is to focus on work and employment. Apart from major articles it is our intention to carry a number of brief statements (100 words) on the way we earn a living. The wider the variety the better; we can even include anonymous contributions providing the author's name is known to us.

Statements and articles are required by the end of September.

*Interesting I lay here the ventilator makes white noise like a felt eraser making all that white chalk disappear into clouds wafting into a sunny last day of school a long long time ago
In my carpeted white-walled Skinner box 1979
I feel glad they are letting me rest and do nothing but listen to the white noise look at the tops of massive trees out the unopenable window and remember the sound of felt erasers on concrete chalk dust, blue sky
red bricks*
